WINTER 2014

TOUCH A CLOUD

By Leon Anderson-Knight

Have you ever touched a cloud? Thanks to my summer job with Parks Canada I have, and I got to explore some of the natural treasures along Lake Superior's north shore. The opportunity presented itself while I was working at the Sault Ste. Marie Canal when I was asked to participate in a summer photo shoot for the Lake Superior National Marine Conservation Area.

PUKASKWA GOES SPACE AGE

By Svenja Hansen

As the biggest national park in Ontario, Pukaskwa doesn't face the same challenges as its more southern relatives. Yet, staff at the park regularly monitors a dozen or so indicators to ensure its boreal and coastal environments stay healthy and strong. Starting in fall 2013 Pukaskwa is getting help from satellites orbiting our blue planet.
