

Waterton Lakes National Park
parks.canada.gc.ca

Interpretive Programs

WHAT'S HAPPENING

June 28 through September 4, 2011

"Staying Safe in Bear Country."

Falls Theatre
Tuesday 8:00 PM

"Where the Wild Things Are."

Falls Theatre
Thursday 8:00 PM

"Things That (Don't) Go Bump in the Night."

Falls Theatre
Saturday 8:00 PM

"So, You Think You Know Your National Parks?"

Falls Theatre
Friday 8:00 PM
&
Crandell Theatre
Sunday 8:00 PM

Guided Hikes Wednesday through Monday

(View page 6 of the Waterton-Glacier Visitor Guide for details)

Through Ancient Eyes

What was it like to live in Waterton 10,000 years ago? Where did people camp and what did they do here? Explore these questions as you walk along the side of Mt. Bellevue, through the grasslands to the bison paddock.

Summit Lake Hike

Hike this moderately-strenuous trail up to Summit Lake in the sub-alpine. Come see what Park staff and volunteers are doing to save the endangered Whitebark Pine tree.

Rowe Lake Hike

Imagine yourself in the bottom of a rock bowl filled with wildflowers, with the sides towering 400 m (1300 ft.) above you. Park Staff and volunteers planted hundreds of Whitebark Pine saplings last fall in this area in an effort to conserve this endangered species.

The International Peace Park Hike

Did you know that Waterton Lakes and Glacier National Park form the world's very first International Peace Park? For over 30 years, visitors have hiked across the Canada/U.S. boundary on foot, accompanied by both a Glacier Park Ranger and a Waterton Park Interpreter.

Spaces are limited so pre-register.

Activities Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday

(View page 6 of the Waterton-Glacier Visitor Guide for details)

Geocache 101

If you want to try geocaching, a Park Interpreter will show you how to use the GPS unit. Sign out one of ours, or bring your own if you have one.

S.O.S. Butterfly Distress!

We need you! Kids, grab your research assistants (a.k.a., your parents) and help us protect one of only two homes in Canada of the endangered halfmoon-hairstreak butterfly. Your research teams will explore this habitat to discover how we can help save the butterflies' home.

Blackfoot Crafts & Stories

Join our Blackfoot Interpreters. Listen to stories, hang out by the fire, and make a small craft to take home with you.

All programs are
FREE
with park entry fee!

Veillez noter que les programmes aux théâtres Falls et Crandell sont en anglais seulement.
Pour obtenir plus de renseignements, appelez-nous au (403) 859-5133 au Centre d'information.