

Aulavik National Park of Canada Management Plan Update 2010-11

Newsletter #3 | June 2011

Parks Canada Wants to Hear from You this Summer

Parks Canada is updating the management plan for Aulavik National Park on Banks Island, Northwest Territories. This review is a requirement under the Canada National Parks Act.

To build a good plan we need to hear from you. We are inviting Inuvialuit, stakeholders and interested Canadians to share their thoughts with us on the draft park management plan for Aulavik.

The new management plan will guide the way forward over the next 10-15 years as we work with Inuvialuit and other partners to keep the park healthy and enduring, better connect residents of the Inuvialuit Settlement Region and other Canadians to the national park, and provide enhanced opportunities for visitors to enjoy this most treasured place.

We hope that you can help shape the future of Aulavik National Park this summer!
