JASPER NATIONAL PARK Mountain Biking Guide

Canada

means one of two things; finding some dirt next to the sidewalk to ride on, or expert level downhill riding. However, if you bike in Jasper, you get that rare third option; cruisy, cross-country fun.

Cruisy, cross-country fun...

In most places, 'Mountain Biking' either

Jasper has what might be the best trail system in the world. Ask any cyclist why they come back to Jasper, and you'll likely hear that it's because the park's well-connected, well-maintained trails are the perfect way to actually experience nature while at the same time avoiding crowds.

RIDE A MOUNTAIN

While most of the trails described are fun, flowing, valley bottom trails, Jasper does have some great climbing for riders looking for physical challenges and eye-popping alpine scenery.

(MAP A & D) Distance: 11 km one way Elevation gain: 840 m caution along the cliff edge.

For those that want an added challenge, stay left at the Palisades junction and travel another 4 km to the base of

100 P₁₂ Signal Mountain

(MAP A) Distance: 9.1 km one way Elevation gain: 925 m

Single speed bikers, beware! This sustained uphill requires strength, stamina and a sense of give and take. What you give: a week's worth of sweat. What you take away: alpine views of the valleys and peaks surrounding the Jasper townsite, plus a hero's descent. Watch for backpackers and bears on the speedy downhill.

Please note: Bikes are not allowed on the Skyline Trail.

Remember, you are responsible for your own safety.

PLAN AHEAD AND PREPARE

- Always wear a helmet and safety gear. Know your equipment.
- Get advice at a Parks Canada Information Centre, including trail conditions, descriptions and weather.
- Pack adequate water, food, gear, maps, first aid. Carry bear spray and know how to use it
- Tell someone where you are going and when you are expected back
- Do not travel alone.

Rules of the Trail

Most trails in Jasper are multi-use. Please share them with other users, and follow these rules developed by the International Mountain Bike Association.

1. Ride designated trails. Mountain biking is allowed only on trails designated for cycling. If a trail is not signed, you're not allowed to ride it.

2. Respect trail closures. Trails can be temporarily or permanently closed for ecological or safety reasons.

3. Ride within your limits. Inattention for even a moment could put yourself and others at risk.

4. Yield appropriately. Let your fellow trail users know you're coming. Make each pass a safe and courteous one. Cyclists traveling downhill should yield to ones headed uphill. 5. Respect horses, they are easily startled. When passing, use extra care and follow directions from the horse riders (ask if

6. Leave no trace. Wet and muddy trails are more vulnerable to damage than dry ones. When the trail is soft, consider other riding options. This also means staying on existing trails and not creating new ones. Be sure to pack out at least as much as you pack in. Leave natural and cultural objects undisturbed for others to discover.

Official trails around the town of Jasper are marked with yellow diamonds. This extensive trail system is maintained by park

Wildland trails are marked differently. You are welcome to use these trails, but they are not maintained or shown on park maps. If a trail is not signed, you're not allowed to ride it.

To decrease erosion, give wildlife the space they need and avoid becoming lost, please return to the signed trail system.

Trail Maintenance

out, inquire about getting involved with trail volunteers.

Trail maintenance crews clear the trails each spring but wind storms can fell trees all summer long. If your ride involved more bike carrying than riding, please report problems to the Information Centre. If you want to help

SAFETY

Call 911 or, if using a satellite phone, call the park dispatch office (780-852-3100). Cell phone reception is unreliable.

Keep wildlife wild, and yourself safer

Cyclists are susceptible to sudden wildlife encounters. Travel in groups, slow down and make noise when out on the trail. Avoid trail use at dawn, dusk and at night. Be aware of bear habitat.

Pyramid Mountain. If you're prepared and have energy to spare, go for a scramble up the rugged slope.

DIFFICULT ROUTES

(MAP A) Distance: 4.2 km Elevation gain/loss: 97 m Thinned forest (for wildfire protection) surrounds rocky single track on this short but rewarding ride. Gradual elevation gains bring you up towards shimmering Caledonia

Lake. Rooty, soggy sections temper what for the most part is fast, flowing and irresistibly fun. Make noise around bends; popular with bears and locals with their dogs.

(MAP A) Distance: 8.1 km one way Elevation gain: 133 m Elevation loss: 135 m

Trail 7 from Old Fort Point to Trial 7g, across the Maligne Lake Road at 5th bridge turn-off sandy switchbacks; and wide open, banked cornersmeans this ride never gets boring. Escape the heat in the cool aspen forests, feel the burn while ascending behind the golf course. Rutted in patches, watch for loose rocks on descents. Bear country; make noise.

15 P₃ Pyramid Trail

(MAP A) Distance: 5.2 one way Elevation gain: 118 m Beginning at sidewalk, bottom of Pyramid Lake Road climbs steadily but rarely steeply en route to Patricia and Pyramid Lakes. Use this connector as your gravel freeway to the Pyramid Bench trail system.

Note: The trails near the riding stables are heavily used by horses; be prepared to stop and dismount.

10 P₈ Moberlander: Overlander

(MAP D) Distance: 6.7 one way Elevation gain: minimal From 6th Bridge to the Moberly Cabins

further afield, the trail curls and dips over gravel beds and root features. Grizzly country! Make noise before bursting through wolf willows to the historic Moberly meadows.

9 P₁₅ Valley of the Five Lakes to Wabasso Lake (MAP A) Distance: 6.6 km one way Elevation gain: 75 m The trail from the Valley of the Five Lakes to Wabasso Lake has it all: flowing traverses, meandering single track, tacky limestone, gorgeous ridge lines, steep ascents/descents and twisty turns along the creek. Circumnavigating serene Wabasso Lake is one of the many highlights of this ride; a true Jasper gem. Watch for hikers around Valley of the Five Lakes during peak daylight hours.

10 P₈ Overlander (MAP D) Distance: 15 km one way

Elevation gain: 420 m Elevation loss: 400 m

Trail 10 from 6th Bridge to Mile 12 bridge on Hwy 16

Offering the best of Jasper's trail system in one epic ride, the Overlander blends forested single track, rocky and ragged sidehills, scorching descents and trough-like climbs. Long views over swirling waterways are best enjoyed while stationary; technical sections command attention. Historic cabins make an ideal snack stop. Use caution! This is Grizzly country!

3 P2 Saturday Night Lake Loop

(MAP C) Distance: 24 km Elevation gain: 780 m Far from busy but popular with hikers, campers—and mosquitoes—this loop is technical, labour-intensive but extremely rewarding. Steep switchbacks and tire-sucking mud above Minnow Lake are your penance; the descent home is your payoff. Classic Jasper single track. For a shorter adventure, bike to Minnow or Saturday Night Lake.

1 9 Pl Valley of the Five Lakes Loop (MAP A) Distance: 17.6 km Elevation gain/loss: 250 m Beginning at Old Fort Point, this quintessential Jasper ride combines rolling, undulating terrain with several rocky, rooty sections. Popular with hikers for its dazzling views, bikers should be alert for congestion and steep hillsides near the opal lakes. To avoid the crowds, skip trail 9a, ride in the early evening or use the shoulder seasons. Slow down and dismount for other users. Loop back on 9b.

Tood 'Ol Trail 7

(MAP A) Distance: 19.3 km Elevation gain/loss: 400 m

Trails 7 (behind Jasper Park Lodge) to 7h. From 6th bridge on Trail

Stiff climbs, winding woodlands and an exhilarating downhill are what's in store along this scenic route. Allow time to stop and walk the scenic pedestrian trail at the edge canyon. Slow down to share the trail with hikers on the section from 5th to 6th bridge and take the time to discover why some locals call this segment "the fairy trail".

Cool forest, serene lakes and rough, rocky, technical sections are the highlights of this short but challenging ride. Rooty sections are slippery when wet, as are several bridges built to keep your tires out of the muck. Stay on trail 8 for a real root romp; 8c shoots you back out to the fire road.

Looking for more of an adventure? Here are a few suggestions that combine biking with hiking and do for trail cyclists wanting to get out into the wilderness. Ride the whole length in one day or stay overnight at pretty Celestine Lake (#41 at 6.8 km), Shalebanks Campground (#62 at 17.3 km) or Seldom Inn Campground (#63 at 25 km). Serious cyclists can ride another 25 km past Willow Creek to Rock Lake Campground.

150 Snake Indian Falls

CAUTION IS REQUIRED ON DOWNHILL STRETCHES: Some waterbar ditches are big enough to make your bike buck you off.

122 Fryatt Valley

Hut (22 km) are other overnight choices.

126 Big Bend

(MAP E) 7.8 km one way, moderate

Rolling along the upper Athabasca Valley, this trail follows a wide, well-packed fire road that is easily traversed on foot or bike. Make a day of it, or stay overnight at Big Bend Campground (#49).

The Whirlpool Fire Road, an 8.6 km jaunt down the Athabasca Pass Trail is a great destination for anyone wanting an easy ride in a wilderness setting. Leave your bike at the end of the road and hike 3.8 km to the remains of the Otto Brothers' Tie Camp. Make this an overnight trip by camping at Whirlpool Campground (#55 at 6.6 km) or Tie Camp Campground (#56 at 11.2 km).

12 Wapiti Trail

(MAP A & B) Distance: 4.7 km one way Elevation gain: minimal This relatively flat community-to-campground connector is a great place to spot wildlife along the Miette and Athabasca Rivers.

(13) Bighorn

(MAP A) Distance: 4.3 km one way Elevation gain: 33 m Named for the sheep attracted to the area, this is an easy route to Annette and Edith Lakes. Formerly the graveyard trail, not for its danger quotient but because it passes the local cemetery, Bighorn Alley is smooth, wide and family friendly. Watch for traffic when crossing the highway and route and often closed in Spring for elk calving.

Sandy, soft and popular with young bikers for the bumps and jumps that break up an otherwise flat, meandering path. Splendid, turquoise views of Lac Beauvert are shared with hikers. Look for the osprey nest on the power pole beside the Athabasca River. Note that this trail is a horse

14 Red Squirrel

(MAP A) Distance: 1 km one way Elevation gain: minimal A swift descent to Old Fort Point or a sustained uphill back to town, bikers should be prepared to encounter other trail users on this wide, level trail. Enjoy river vistas and valley bottom views. Soft shoulders; take caution around

U Jasper Discovery Trail (MAP A & B) Distance: 2.5 km one way Elevation gain: minimal

Traveling east-west along Jasper's historic rail corridor has never been so smooth! Wheelchair friendly and enjoyed by passers-through to stretch their limbs, this paved artery is primarily used by mountain bikers en-route to more rugged terrain. Take your time and learn about Jasper's railway history along the way. Watch for elk.
